

WANT ARMY AIR SERVICE FUNDS INCREASED SOON

Add Appropriations Are Necessary to Keep Up
Department

Washington, July 25.—Cognizant of the grim race among the world powers for aerial supremacy, Congress next winter will be asked to increase the army air service appropriations nearly 100 per cent, it was learned today.

Estimates totalling $25,000,000 have been approved by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the service and a determined fight is to be waged, not only to secure that amount for the next fiscal year, but to insure that appropriations of like size will be forthcoming in the future.

An aerial force of 2,500 planes, 4,000 officers, 2,500 flying cadets, and 25,000 enlisted men is the ultimate goal of the army air service now. With an appropriation of $25,000,000 it is contended such a force—competent in every way to serve the defense needs of the United States, could be built up and maintained. Failure of Congress to grant adequate appropriations for promotion of aviation, officials stated, has stifled and stunted the air service to a point where it bids fair to become impotent as a material factor in the national defense.

WON'T DESERT FARM FOR WASHINGTON

Mrs. Magnus Johnson, wife of Senator Magnus Johnson.

Senator's wife, who has farmed all her life, declares she milks seven cows before breakfast every morning and that she personally cares for the little truck garden that supplies the food for the entire Johnson family.

SALMON TRADE IN ALASKA MENACED— URGES SAFEGUARDS

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—Strong and immediate restrictions upon salmon fishing in Alaska must be imposed if the industry is to be preserved from the same destruction which has ruined fisheries in other parts of the United States.

This declaration was made by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in a statement issued on board the Henderson, reviewing the results of conferences held on the Alaska trip with fishermen, consumers, prominent officials, business men and experts.

Congress will be asked to give his department more constructive authority, Mr. Hoover said, but in the meantime the administration will not sit idly by and witness the destruction of the great fishing resources. Action should have been taken long ago, Secretary Hoover declared, adding that through western Alaska, where restrictions already have been imposed, he found universal approval of the policy creating reserves and adopting other measures limiting the amount of fish to be taken by action of congress.

The need for conservation in Alaska has been recognized for ten years, Mr. Hoover said, adding: "This is the largest of Alaska's industries. More than half of the population and more than half of the territorial revenues are dependent upon it. It can in time be built to much larger dimensions than at present. If nothing is done, it will be lost in a few years. It is of vital importance to the whole American people as a national source of food supply. There are no universal panaceas for this whole problem in Alaska—neither seasonal restrictions nor limitations of the pack, or any particular gear or its location, are universally applicable. Every district is a problem to itself."

Secretary Hoover announced that in an effort to obtain the best information regarding proper methods of regulation to be applied, he intends to appoint a board in Alaska to consider and advise his department as to regulations under the preserves.

SENATOR WILL PROBE AFFAIRS IN RED RUSSIA

First Hand Information Object of Trip It Is Announced.

Berlin, July 25.—On the eve of the departure of the unofficial American congressional commission into soviet Russia, Senator King of Utah, a member of the commission, issued a statement outlining the purposes of the trip. Senator King said:

"We are going to Russia for the purpose of studying the political, economic, industrial, religious, educational and social conditions of the soviet republic."

"The Russian question looms large on the horizon, not only of Europe, but of other countries. By many it is thought if the Russian question is solved it will be a great step taken in the solution of all European problems and there are those who believe that America and all nations are vitally interested in the concerns of Europe."

"We desire to obtain first hand information concerning Russia and her people and the 'great experiment' as some denominate the soviet government's activities, which are being worked out in Russia."

Senator King emphasized the fact that in order to be independent in collecting its information the commission was taking with it its own interpreter, Frank Connes of the New York supreme court.

He said also that the commission had laid out no new fixed itinerary, but that it expects to go as far as the Caucasus, the Black Sea, Kiev, Odessa, Petrograd, Moscow and from various central points penetrate deep into the country districts in motor cars.

Alarmed by the intense activity of the communists on one hand and the nationalists on the other, together with spreading food riots, the Prussian minister of the interior sent out orders to all provincial governors to prevent any and all open assemblages or street demonstrations of whatever character.

The order also specifically forbids the "anti-fascist day" demonstration planned by the communists at Potsdam Sunday and loudly heralded by radical leaders, who have ordered followers out into the streets to "fight for your rights and to drive the fascist beasts into their holes."

The brutal killing of Attorney Haas at Frankfurt, the mistreatment of his wife and aged father, and the complete demolition of his home by a mob is looked upon as symptomatic of the latent anarchism smoldering in Germany. Government circles viewed the internal situation with much concern.

MAN IS ARRESTED AFTER LONG CHASE

Cincinnati, O., July 25.—After a chase of more than 30,000 miles, extending through a dozen states and lasting four months, Paul Berns, 40, also known as Paul Bernstein, stock salesman, of Bad Axe, Michigan, and former Cincinnati, is under arrest here today and will be taken back to Michigan by Detective Walter Wilkinson, of Bad Axe, who made the arrest. Berns is charged with embezzling $7,500 worth of stock of the Ruggles Motor Truck Company, Saginaw, Mich.

Thomas Codling, of Bad Axe, who swore to the warrant for Berns, claims to have been swindled when the latter failed to turn over stock of several other Michigan concerns in exchange for the above amount of Codling's Ruggles stock.

TEN ESCAPED MEN STILL AT LARGE

Chester, Ill., July 25.—Search was extended to distant points today for 10 inmates of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane who are still at large. Additional word was sent to several towns within a radius of 150 miles to be on the lookout for the convicts.

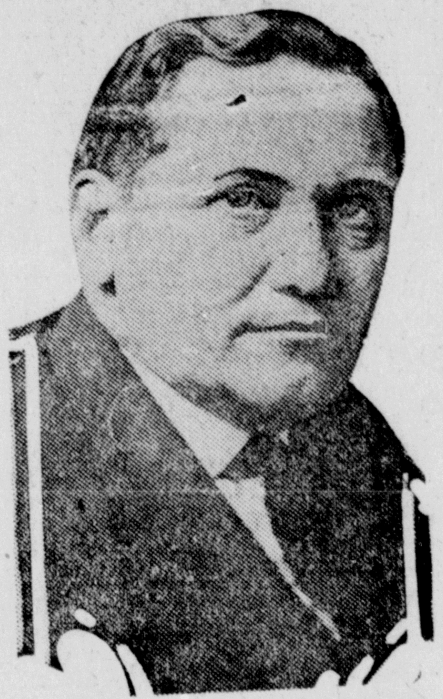

Prison authorities said, that as a result of the investigation made by state officials, an armed guard station within a towed world watch over the bull pen where 41 escaped in Sunday's rebellion. The establishment of a tower would prevent the possibility of a guard being overpowered in event of an uprising and modify the rule of barring guns at the hospital.

SAY WATER POWER MEN ARE BEHIND DAVIS' REMOVAL

Washington, July 25.—The charge has been renewed here that big waterpower interests of the southwest were behind the recent removal of A. P. Davis as commissioner of the reclamation service, department of the interior.

Interested congressmen, it was learned, are making a quiet investigation into the removal of A. P. Davis and the appointment of D. W. Davis, former governor of Idaho, as his successor. It appears certain that the change will be aired in congress next winter when the annual report of the reclamation service comes up for discussion.

At the department it was stated that there had been absolutely no change in the plans for the development of the Colorado river basin since A. P. Davis' retirement four weeks ago; that his assistant, F. E. Weymouth, continues in charge of the engineering office of the services at Denver, and that he is going ahead with the program as outlined under his former chief.

When the change of commissioners was made last month by Secretary Work, the explanation of the department was that it was for business reasons; that A. P. Davis was essentially an engineer; that the reclamation development had progressed beyond the engineering status to where it required a business administrative head rather than a technical expert, and that the new commissioner was put in to place the service on a sound business basis.

UNITY IS NEAR IN CHURCH MATTERS

Cleveland, July 25.—Methodist Episcopal unity throughout the United States today awaits only the approval of general conferences of the northern and southern branches of the church which have been separated since 1844 due to differences growing out of the then burning issue of slavery.

Plans for unification with only slight changes suggested by the representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church south, have been unanimously ratified by the committee on unification now in session here. The plans will be submitted to the general conference of the Northern body next May and should approval be voted is considered certain, it was predicted that a special session of the southern general conference would be called to vote final approval. The unification is expected to be completed by 1929.

YELLOWSTONE PARK TOURISTS CUT OFF FROM OUTSIDE WORLD BY DISASTROUS CLOUDBURSTS

Entrance to Section Through Shoshone Valley Strewn
With Debris as Result of Worst Flood in History
of U. S. Forestry Service.

Cody, Wyoming, July 25.—The beautiful entrance to Yellowstone Park through the Shoshone valley, today was strewn with debris and wreckage as a result of the worst flood in the history of the United States forestry service. Three cloudbursts within six hours sent the flood waters sweeping down the mountain passes carrying tons of rock and dirt, cutting off from the outside world 400 tourists and completely demoralizing all forms of communication.

Ranger stations, summer resorts, lodges and other buildings were swept into flooded rivers. Canyon Creek moved westward a quarter of a mile and formed a new channel. Absaroka Lodge, a resort, is reported filled with debris and trees many feet deep. Three feet of mud from the overflow of Grinnell creek covers the road for miles.

Boulders, trees and wreckage of all descriptions was strewn over an area of more than half a mile when the Clock tower creek went over its bank. Hundreds of marooned tourists worked feverishly with forestry service men throwing temporary bridges across the flooded streams and this morning had succeeded in making a passable road from the park to this city.

The Shoshone Dam reservoir is black with a mass of wreckage washed down by the flood of waters. At Sanders, on the Northern Pacific, and Wyo. on the Burlington, cloudbursts halted all train traffic from the east into Billings. One thousand feet of track is washed out and trains are held up indefinitely at Forsythe.

Cloudbursts and floods at Rock Springs and Point of Rocks, are menacing the tracks but as yet no serious breaks or tieups have occurred. Damage to the Burlington tracks between Armingo and the Thermopolis, a stretch of 80 miles, is estimated at $750,000.

Damage at the Thermopolis and vicinity is estimated at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000. No loss of life has been reported but many ranchers and families had narrow escapes. Damage may run higher when communication is again estimated with points now cut off.

NEW WAGE SCALE TO PREVENT COAL STRIKE IS HINTED

Atlantic City, N. J., July 25.—With the anthracite joint scale committee summoned to hold a session this morning there were indications of impending developments in the negotiations between miners and operators to frame a new scale which will prevent a strike in the hard coal fields September 1.

The move for two sessions today against the single afternoon session of the past was instituted by S. D. Warriner, head of the operators and was taken to mean that the operators are about ready to bring into the open their attitude on the demand of the miners for complete recognition of the mine workers' union and for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

The attitude of the operators who have, up to now, confined their activities to searching questioning of the miners has been puzzling to the latter. This was indicated in the carefully worded statement which John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, issued in commenting on the demand of Warriner that the operators had been "stalling."

POINCARÉ OPPOSES SPECIFIC DATE FOR PAYING WAR DEBT

Paris, July 25.—Premier Poincaré is opposed to any specific date for paying the French war debt to United States even if it is put ten or fifteen years ahead, it was learned today from semi-official sources.

The premier is willing to consider war debts and German reparations together and will consent to a reduction of Germany indemnity of 30,000,000 gold marks if Great Britain and America will at once annul all debts owing to them by France. Otherwise (it is understood) he will insist upon the full payment of 132,000,000,000 gold marks.

French and Belgian diplomatic negotiations for the purpose of solidarity in replying to the British reparations note are continuing in diplomatic channels. There are two principal differences of opinion:

1—Belgium wishes to make concessions to the British viewpoint and discuss a reduction of the German debt.

2—Belgium is willing to have an international commission appointed to examine Germany's ability for payment.

France is opposed to both these suggestions.

The French claim that the Ruhr and reparations problems are political not economic.

GIRL TO TESTIFY IN WHITFIELD CASE

Cleveland, O., July 25.—Marie Agnes Price, 14-year-old girl, companion of John L. Whitfield, in his flight to Madison, Wis., following the killing of Patrolman Dennis Griffin for whose murder Whitfield is now on trial, was to arrive in Cleveland today, having been served with a subpoena at her home in Fort Wayne, Indiana, yesterday commanding her presence as a witness for the state in the trial of her lover. The state hopes to prove by the girl's testimony that Whitfield was armed when the couple left Cleveland in their flight which ended at Madison, Wis., following the death of the police officer last May.

With eleven jurors tentatively seated when court convened today and the defense still having thirteen peremptory challenges unexercised and the state three, it was thought that a jury would not be obtained before the noon recess, although a much smaller proportion of talesmen were being excused than is ordinarily the case.

DEVICE ENABLES CONGRESSMEN TO VOTE BY BUTTON

Washington, July 25.—Parliamentary voting by electricity is hardly to be reckoned as a party policy, and it has found no place in a political platform, but it is a subject which is quite likely to occupy more than the passing attention of the United States Congress next session.

A young man of 25 years has invented a complicated but reliable electrical device for registering parliamentary votes almost instantaneously, and had it not been for the legislative jam of the last Congress it is probable that his invention would have been given a try-out as a resolution to that effect was favorably considered by the Republican leaders of the Lower House. The installation of the system calls for an appropriation of $125,000.

The principle advantages claimed for the device are that all members can vote simultaneously by pressing buttons at their seats; the vote of each member is visually shown to all occupants of the chamber by means of indicator boards on either side of the Speaker's rostrum; a complete perforated card record of the vote, including the totals, can be obtained by the clerk in a fraction of a minute by inserting a blank card in the recorder cabinet and pressing a button. This means the conservation of much valuable time and absolute accuracy in the vote. The permanent record can not be altered; absentees are automatically recorded; printers and clerical mistakes are avoided, and the record is made complete.

In a recent Congress 592 roll calls were made. They consumed a total of 444 hours, or 88 legislative days. The value of this time, measured in terms of Members' salaries amounted to $664,244. One statistician who has a penchant for "figgering" has discovered that the total time consumed in calling the roll during the 66th Congress, reduced to the time of one man working five hours a day continuously, amounted to more than 100 years. The automatic voting system allows about 10 minutes for all Members in their offices to come to the Chamber and vote, if they so desire. If the 592 roll calls above mentioned had been taken automatically, the total time required would have been 20 days, so that 68 working days would have been saved to Congress by the system.

Another argument which seems not to have been advanced in favor of this voting system is that it would be quite effective in crippling the efforts of opponents of proposed legislation to filibuster. Speaker Tom Reed dealt a terrific blow to the practice at one time, but since then it has been the custom when a filibuster in the House was on to order repeated roll calls, each of which takes 40 or 45 minutes to make. Automatic and instantaneous voting would discourage that practice.

The machine is so constructed as to prevent any tampering with the vote. It is supplied with three buttons, "Yea," "Nay," and "Present"—none of which can be pressed until the key is turned, and anyone of which, when pressed, automatically locks all the others. There is a correction button which is likewise tamper-proof.

WARNS AMERICA TO STAY AWAY FROM EUROPE'S TROUBLES

New York, July 24.—A warning to the United States to "stay out of Europe" was issued today by George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Chicago Continental and Commercial National bank, on his return from a six months' study of economic conditions abroad.

Reynolds declared the "lack of cooperation" between European nations prevented the United States from "lending a helping hand in restoring normal economic conditions. He voiced "unalterable opposition" to American participation in settlement of the reparations dispute.

"I studied conditions abroad for six months and I am more than ever convinced, that we must stay out of Europe and mind our own business," said Reynolds.

"America cannot help Europe now because Europe will not help herself. We must wait until there is a stabilization of politics and until European nations show a willingness to cooperate with each other. The ill feeling now existing between foreign countries abroad, prevent the United States from lending any aid."

APPEAL TO GRAND JURY.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Indication was made today that the state would take its evidence before the Grand Jury in an effort to indict W. H. Cabene, F. J. Woodward and Arthur Goldberg, former state highway employees, dismissed by Municipal Judge Seidel on charges of complicity in the alleged theft of surplus war materials from the State Fair Grounds.

FORD OWNERS OF ENGLAND DEMAND EQUAL CAR RIGHTS

London, July 25.—Henry Ford threatens to become the centre of a political storm in England.

It is not that Ford will enter the political field in Great Britain, but the increasing prevalence of his cars among British owners is apt to cause English politicians some little trouble.

The Ford Owners' Association of Great Britain has just been organized to demand equal rights for Fords and Ford owners. This association has taken an immediate and belligerent stand and threatens an attack on Parliament.

The present British motor-tax is the cause of all the trouble. Under the present system of taxation Fords are charged at the rate of $5 per horsepower.

The owners of Ford cars claim this system of taxation is unfair and that the great majority of English cars, which are far more expensive than Fords, do not have as great horsepower as Fords and consequently are taxed far less.

The Ford Owners' Association has placed its grievances before Parliament and has threatened that if they are ignored all of the Ford owners in England will organize a drive on London and will "tie up" London with their cars, drive into London at a given time and block traffic until they are heard.

This is a serious threat, because London is already suffering from very serious traffic ills.

It is estimated that there are 500,000 Ford owners in England. The political pressure which can be brought to bear by their organization is being given serious consideration by political leaders.

Outside of the question of taxation, the Ford Owners' Association is also out to demand equal social rights.

Councillor E. Hales, of Manchester, one of the leaders in the Ford Owners' Association, proclaims that "if you take a Ford to an ordinary hotel you get a snub from the 'boots.' He demands that this condition be remedied.

Thus the democratization of the world by the Ford seems to have reached even dignified and staid old England.

Henry Ford's picture, by the way, is becoming almost as common in the streets of London as his motor cars are.

London's sidewalk artists—beggars, who draw crude sketches in the streets and live from the pennies given them by kindly passers-by—have "discovered" Ford. No up-to-date sidewalk art exhibition is complete these days without a likeness of the Detroit automobile magnate.

One artist drew a bold sketch of Ford and underneath it wrote: "The Richest Man in the World—Drawn by the Poorest One."

The inscription so pleased the artist's "customers" that he admitted honesty might compel him to alter it. His hat was soon filled with pennies and sixpences.

Have You an "Easy" in Your Home?

The washing machine that washes clothes by air pressure and suction.

The "EASY" VACUUM ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINE does the work of human hands. Tirelessly the vacuum cups force the hot, soapy water by air pressure through the meshes of the garments, and then by suction draw it back again. There is no rubbing, tearing or dragging—just air pressure and suction.

The big, open, copper tank is easy to load and unload. It is smooth and clean—no corners or crevices to catch dirt. The "EASY" is rust-proof being made out of solid copper, brass and aluminum. The gas heater heats water to any desired temperature. The wringer starts, stops or reverses instantly.

Let the "EASY" prove that it will give just as satisfactory service to you as it is giving to thousands of others.

POLICE START MOVE TO REMEDY ALLEGED UNLAWFUL PARKING

Attempts to remedy a serious parking situation, particularly on Saturday night, have been announced by Chief of Police M. E. Graham and will be launched Saturday night.

The police campaign will have for its goal the elimination of the present practice of machines parking directly back of automobiles that are parked at the curbs of down town streets. Police allege that after cars park with in the parking spaces, other cars are parked directly back of them parallel with the curb, so that they can not be moved.

The congested parking program presents a serious menace in case of a down-town fire on Saturday night, according to Chief Graham. Should a fire start in a down town building, firemen could not draw a truck up near to the fire and would be handicapped in laying hose, if that were necessary, says the Chief.

The orders to stop the irregular parking are the result of a survey made last Saturday night by Chief Graham and Patrolmen Bayles and Simms, when they found many machines parked in that manner. The system also blocks traffic on the main thoroughfares it is said.

The parking ordinance provides that machines should park with the right front wheel touching the curb, except on the east side of Detroit street, where parallel parking is permitted because of the railroad and on Green and other narrow streets where similar permission is granted.

Arrests will be made of all drivers who park their machines in violation of the parking ordinance from now on, according to Chief Graham. Violation is punishable with a fine in Police Court.

Police have also been ordered by Chief Graham to wage war on drivers who drive with the cut-outs on their machines open. There is an ordinance to cover this sort of driving. Chief Graham says and Police have been ordered to arrest offenders. They will face a fine in Police Court.

OBSERVATIONS ON THE MINNESOTA ELECTION.

The election of Mr. Magnus Johnson is not without its compensations. Roaring on the stump against the plutocrats and the money devils is one thing. Even proposing, much less executing, a constructive program for remedying existing evils and wrongs is quite another. The people of this country are not going to get anywhere through the activities of demagogues who are using their lung power in blatherskite yawp, and whose program is merely that of imitating the soviet socialists in ripping up and tearing down the structure of American industry. If the voters of this country want to be completely cured of radicalism, all they need to do is to apply the Russian treatment—to try it on. Tearing things down is easy enough. Building things up is a real task for real men who have brain power as well as jaw power. It is to be hoped that the American people will not have to pay the heavy cost of learning this lesson in the school of experience. But it will be necessary for all Americans who do not wish to risk the security and the stability of American institutions by committing this nation's public affairs to the hands of adventurers, to arouse themselves to the dangers confronting this country. They must begin and continue to be active in politics if the representative republic of Washington and Lincoln is not to be made over on the model of the autocracy of Lenin and Trotsky which the socialist leaders of the Northwest agrarian movement regard as superior to the American form of government.

Patriotic citizens, devoted to the fundamentals of free government must be aroused to something more effective than mere denunciation. They must seriously turn themselves to the world of meeting and overcoming the sinister sophistries of radicals who what ever their other failings, realize the power of education, even false education, upon public opinion. The sole difference between Russia and the United States at this time is a state of mind. It is the appeal to public opinion which determines the national state of mind. The nation needs a courageous, persistent, pervasive campaign of education such as that which saved the country thirty years ago from the perils of a populism which was mild radicalism as compared with that of the camouflaged socialism now deluding the discouraged farmers of the Northwest.

The policies of Republicanism given opportunity to work themselves out by a fair trial, will bring to the American people as full a measure of diffused prosperity as it is possible to attain through political action. The Republican party has a sane, progressive program for national reconstruction which has already proved of immeasurable benefit to the American people. The thing for Republicans to do is to stand by and vindicate these principles and policies and that record, firm in the faith that it is never a mistake to appeal to the patriotism and common sense rather than to the ignorance and envy of the American masses.—National Republican.

LONG A-COMING.

An old clipping from the New York Nation which has turned up and which, judging from its appearance, is at least twenty years of age, tends to give the impression that they are mistaken who trace the so-called "revolt of youth" to the World War and its heritages. It would appear that the "revolt" was incubating and a-comeing a long time before the Germans concluded to have a try at world conquering, and that writers of popular brands of stories for boys and for girls were in large part responsible. Discussing these books which flattered children into the belief that they were wiser and better than their elders and gave them a prodigiously exaggerated idea of their own importance, the Nation, perhaps a quarter of a century ago, illuminatingly observed:

"A large part of the charm lies in the superiority under all circumstances of the youthful hero. His father, or guardian, or employer, is a grown man and as such, either a fool or a tyrant—preferably a little of each. The boy himself from the first page, is exhibited in the enviable act of doing or daring his elders at every possible turn. There is no danger for him in 'sassing back.' No shingle is ever permitted to fall upon his sacred person; he is immune from all the ills that a normal puerility is naturally heir to. In short, he is the kind of a fellow a fellow would like to be. The same bauble of triumphant adolescence is dangled before the fancy of the girl reader. We have been moved to these remarks by chance contact with a new story by a popular writer for girls. The heroine has always been downtrodden by a heartless and stingy mother. We have the advantages of admittance to the scene at the moment when the worm turns. After the first few pages we have nothing to fear for the daughter, who thereafter has everything her own way—a selfish, vain saucy little prig, greatly admired, to all appearances, by her creator."

A reader friend has requested me to publish some good cheese dishes. In warm weather it is an excellent plan to use meat-substitutes (such as eggs, cheese and beans.) The following are all nourishing dishes:

Cheese Custard: Butter a baking dish and put in it a layer of bread which you have cut in thin slices and then into cubes about an inch square (no crusts.) Sprinkle over this bread-layer mild American cheese cut water-thin, then dust with salt and pepper. Add another layer of bread in the same way, and again sprinkle with the cheese. Beat two eggs, add to them one pint of sweet milk, and pour this liquid over the cheese and bread. Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven. It should look delicate and wavy between the soft, spongy bread. (In all, you will need one-half loaf of bread and one-half pound of cheese for this recipe.)

FAILURE

I will not fail today.
I will not cry my burden is unfair.
Cast it aside and leave it lying there.
I will not say
Soft words of pity to myself, and whine
That others have an easier task
than mine.

I will not fail today.
I will not mar this record white and new
By failing to do all that I can do.
Let come what may.
I'll do my best with what my hands
shall find,
And passing, leave no vain regrets
behind.

I will not fail today.
I will not play the shirk or play the
cheat;
I will not stain my duty with deceit.
Though rough the way
And heavy seem the burden I must bear,
I'll not begrudge to life these hours
of care.

I will not fail today.
I may not come to dusk by glory
crowned,
But I shall fight my battle, round
by round,
And hope shall stay,
And night shall find me, as the day
began,
Though not a victor, still no less a man.

HOW TO BE LUCKY

I have had my share of luck, as well as ill luck, and I am ready to state that luck is very pleasant—but I have learned there is one way alone that is sure in the attaining of luck, and that is to make up your mind that luck must come.

Such a statement, without explanation, is sure to create a smile. So here is the explanation.

Making up your mind never accomplishes anything unless you give orders through your imagination—will yourself to carry out your decision. When that decision is carried out, you get a part, at least, of your heart's desire. And that's happy.

It takes courage, patience, long thinking and waiting, to turn luck your way.

I have noted that the luckiest people are those who keep at the heels of luck—no matter where it runs.

Of course luck doesn't come merely from hard work. There are millions of people who work hard but who seem to have little luck. Luck comes about through vision, foresight, being able to know luck when its head appears. Like the chap who is always seeing himself just a little higher up—in his boss's shoes, perhaps.

And then luck comes about by seizing a combination of circumstances and making an event out of them.

I have in mind a writer who earns a very large sum from his writings now. I knew him when one-tenth that sum seemed large. But he felt that he had an unusual message—which he had—and he determined to get that message across. Day in and day out he worked and sought out every opportunity, until one day he awoke to find that he was being read and appreciated. I waked through the beautiful home of this friend the other day, and contrasted his present position with that of ten years ago. Lucky? Yes. But he went after luck.

Within yourself you carry the one lucky turn. Will you search it out? Will you dig deep for it. Will you pay what luck costs?

If you will, you will be lucky.

RAINS PROFITABLE FOR MANY FARMERS OF GREENE COUNTY

Heavy rains which fell, Tuesday, saved thousands of dollars for Greene County farmers and truck gardeners. It was estimated by County Farm Bureau Agent, Ford S. Prince, Wednesday. No estimate has been made of the amount of rainfall, Tuesday, but it is thought that Xenia was in the vicinity which received the heaviest amount.

Although the rain will delay threshing in the fields of the county, it will aid the growth of corn, according to Mr. Prince.

The heavy rains had a cooling effect on the temperature that prevailed before. Cooler weather was forecasted for Wednesday, with "generally fair" for Thursday, in the south-east portion.

FISH STORY BUT IT IS STILL TRUE

J. S. Painter, and his son, Roy Painter, formerly of Paintersville, are the heroes of a true fish story, according to a recent account in the McAllen, (Texas) Monitor.

The following story was told in the Texas paper: "J. S. Painter, who lives out on North 13th Street, went fishing Tuesday afternoon, in the reservoir south of Pharr. He was accompanied by his son, and guided by the veteran fisherman, who lives in that vicinity.

"After taking out a barrel of fish of varieties that are good for human consumption, the net the men were using got into an awful commotion. It was full of something alive, and the contents were drawn upon the shore none too soon, for the net was in shreds. The catch consisted of a monster gar, that weighed on the McAllen Hardware Company scales, just 75 pounds. The big fish measured six feet in length. Mr. Painter expected to have it mounted."

Styles BY LENORE

You have often observed, no doubt, how few women are really outstanding figures even in an ordinarily well dressed crowd. They will all meet a certain level of good style without claim to unusual distinction. And then suddenly they become merely a background for some one person who excites particular interest.

Nor is it necessarily an expensive outfit that will do the trick. Usually, rather, it is a clever bit of originality. The other day at a smart beach resort just outside of New York, even in the colorful parade of such a place one young woman attracted the attention of most of the others by wearing a turquoise linen coat, embroidered all over in white, with a trig up-turned hat of the same material. Most of the other hats present were felt, some straw.

Another intriguing accessory to give dash to a summer costume is the brilliant yellow and black Oriental scarf knotted under the chin as shown in the sketch. The same coloring is repeated in the band on the black felt cloche.

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. routs out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and "pep."

CLIFTON WOMAN KILLED AND TWO OTHERS INJURED WHEN AUTO STRUCK BY TRAIN

Mrs. Grace Tannehill, 55, of near Clifton, was killed. Miss Alice Finney, also of near Clifton was seriously injured, and Miss Addah Tannehill, daughter of the dead woman, was slightly injured when the automobile, in which they were occupants, was struck by a west-bound Big Four passenger train at the Western Avenue crossing, Springfield, late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Tannehill was buried under the debris, when the machine was hurled a short distance by the collision, turning completely over. An ambulance was called to the scene, but Mrs. Tannehill died before reaching the hospital.

Miss Finney and Miss Tannehill were also removed to the hospital, where it was found that Miss Finney's injuries consisted of a broken left leg, an injured hip, cuts and bruises about her face and body. Miss Tannehill was only slightly cut and bruised, and was later removed to her home near Clifton.

Miss Tannehill was driving the automobile at the time of the accident, and according to her story, the three women were riding south on Western Avenue, and upon the crossing noticed a standing freight train west of the crossing. She said the warning bells were ringing and believing the standing train was causing them to ring, she started the car across the track. She said she did not see the approaching train until it was upon them.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Tannehill leaves one son, Otis, two sisters, Miss Agnes Kyle, of the Springfield City Health Department, and Mrs. R. L. Newland, of Springfield; four brothers, T. K. Kyle of this city; J. E. Kyle of Cedarville; O. H. Kyle of Altoona, Pa., and Carl Kyle of Springfield.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Thursday at the residence near Clifton. Burial will be made at the Clifton Cemetery.

BAYLIFFS TO PLAY
QUEEN CITY TEAM
OF K. I. O. LEAGUE

The Xenia Bayliffs will meet another K. I. O. League team at Washington Park Sunday afternoon. This time it will be the Norwoods. The Queen City bunch has a nifty team and one that will be hard to beat as in the past the Norwoods have been one of the leading semi-pro nines of Cincinnati.

The Bayliffs have won eight games to date while they came out on the losing end five times. Every team from Cincinnati has turned back the locals and this time the Bayliff players are seeking to get revenge. Manager Bayliff is counting on having two practice sessions this week.

Big Boy Herman will take care of the twirling. Herman lost to the Coca Colas another K. I. O. League team and this time Herman is going to avenge this defeat and promises the Bayliff followers a win at the expense of the swiftly moving Norwood gang. Bayne will receive the slants. Curt Free will also be available. The last time that Curt worked on the hill for the locals was against the sturdy Springfield Athletics. Curt pitched a whole of a game that afternoon for the Bayliffs. He fanned seven while the best of the Springfield batters could garner off him was four singles one of them being a freak home run. In case that Free should have to twirl he will be in fine fettle.

The Norwood team is a high priced club and Manager Bayliff is taking a chance of losing all kinds of money on this game as the Cincinnati bunch is receiving a handsome purse for its battle with the local line. But that the Norwood outfit is worth every penny that the Bayliff manager is giving because the team is coming here with a good record having dropped but one game out of fourteen. Just who handed them a setback could not be learned. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Norris in charge.

RESERVES TO MEET
FAST DAYTON NINE
ON SUNDAY HERE

The Reserves will endeavor to keep up their winning ways at the expense of the sturdy Studebaker nine of Dayton, Sunday afternoon at Reserve Park, on Cincinnati Avenue. Fans will remember that this was the same team that battled on even terms with the Bayliffs several weeks ago. The game went 10 innings and when hostilities were over both had eight counters apiece. This game ranked among the best at Reserve Park this season. The Dayton bunch has been strolling along at an amazing clip since tangleing up with the locals and they have won most of their games easily. The Reserves will be all set for them and Jesse Chambliss's gang is confident that it can turn back the Studebakers.

Mann will be on the rubber for the Studebakers. He is a real curve ball pitcher and averages 10 to 12 strikeouts per game. In his game against the Reserves he fanned 12 of the Reserve batters. Then there is Russ Bowman, who is just about as good a short stop as can be found around Dayton. Dadisman, who plays at first base, not only takes care of the initial sack but clouts the ball in an excellent manner. Dadisman garnered two home runs off Wigal when he twired for the Reserves in that game. Mann who does the hurling is another good slugger. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Rachford in charge. A week from this Sunday the Reserves will tangle up with the Xenia Red Sox.

BY JOCK MALONE

Columbus, O. July 25—A decisive beating was administered by Jock Malone, St. Paul, to Anthony Downey, local middleweight fighter, here last night.

Malone, hailed as middleweight champion of the world, was credited with winning each of the dozen rounds of the bout. He had dazzling speed. Downey was unable to land a single damaging blow.

Although Malone landed numerous terrific punches to the body and left hooks to the head, Downey gamely, but futilely sought to put over his punches. Each fighter weighed 153 pounds.

JOHNNY DUNDEE
GETS CHANCE AGAIN

New York, July 25—Johnny Dundee, chronic seeker of world's championship honors, will have his fling

at the featherweight title tomorrow night not less than five years behind his time. Always fortune's football, Dundee is granted the boon of facing a champion to a decision with the best of his career behind him. He will hardly be the Dundee of other and better years whatever the outcome of his bout with Eugene Criqui.

POVERTY or RICHES

Which would you choose? But wait—

“A WIFE’S STORY”

BY JANE PHELPS

PUDDING

The proof of the pudding, they say, is in the eating. The test of a life is in the living—but many a married life could be made happier and safer if some of the tests were applied before matrimony, instead of waiting for the acid test of experience to enlighten Youth.

Ruby Atkins met Paul Norwood and married him. About all she knew of him was that he had crinkly hair and fine shoulders and—was her husband.

But what she and her daughters learned of him later is told in

Radio Helped Balloonist Win Big Race

Radio wins race.

Lieutenant R. F. Olmstead, winner of the Indianapolis elimination balloon race to determine the three entries to represent the United States in the James Gordon Bennett race in Europe this Fall, gives the radio credit for his victory. Equipped with a light-weight set, he was able to listen-in to weather reports of upper air currents broadcasted from five of the principal stations of the country, night and morning, while the balloonists were in the air. Another use he found for his radio was in approaching thunder shower areas, the most dreaded interference after a balloonist leaves the ground. Long before lightning of the static in his receivers warned him of the approach of the storm. Lieutenant Olmstead's radio-equipped balloon is shown in the air.

GARAGEMAN HURT WHEN JACK SLIPS

Jerome Swigert, partner in the firm of Swigert Bros., owners of an East Second street garage, was rendered temporarily unconscious when a jack with which he was raising an automobile at the Garage Tuesday evening slipped and struck him in the head.

The blow caused a slight concussion above the right eye and a scalp wound. He regained consciousness at the offices of Drs. A. C. and H. C. Masson, where his injuries were dressed. The injuries are painful but not serious, attending physicians say.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Lee Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down, especially when I arose in the morning. My back was weak and the least exertion tired me. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and received immediate relief. It was but a short time until Doan's cured me entirely of this trouble. The fact that I have not had any symptom for several years gives me reason to believe that Doan's have effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Ledbetter gave the above statement Aug. 2, 1917, and on Aug. 15, 1921, she added: "I am very glad to again recommend so reliable a kidney remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use Doan's since they cured me several years ago. I am glad to confirm my statement of 1917."

BRINGING UP FATHER

Sixty-Eight Building Permits Issued Here

Sixty-eight building permits, calling for brand new residences, spic and span garages, remodeling and snappy repairs designed to improve and beautify have, been issued by City Manager S. O. Hale since January 1, 1923.

The 68 permits, calling for many and varied types of construction work, take their places along side of permits that aggregated a 36.5 per cent gain in building in the United States for the first six months of 1923 over a like period of 1922.

They are piled on top of a total of 175 permits issued up to the first of last January from the time the new building code ordinance went into effect in February, 1922. Since that time 243 permits have been issued. They call for an aggregated expenditure of more than $200,000, according to estimates. Xenia's building code does not call for an estimated amount on the permits issued.

Twenty-six of the permits issued since January 1, 1923, called for new dwellings. Their styles run the gamut from the cute little three-room cottages of the financially conservative, to the pretentious, elaborate and altogether beautiful Dutch Colonials, American Colonials, bungalows and other examples of the modern architecture affected by those who know what they want and mean to have it.

Building in Xenia has not been in any one locality. The city is not so closely built up yet that building lots, can not be found in old residence sections. Yet the new Dadds Additions, with its charming residential possibilities, is now being fringed by the pioneer houses that farseeing Xenians predict will fill that advantageous embryonic residential district.

Permits issued since the first of the year are classified as follows: Residences 26; Garages 13; Remodeling, including additions 17; repairs, 9 and other buildings, five. Two permits were issued in duplicate calling for both garage and residence at the same time.

Building permits issued in the United States in June this year were only 2.3 per cent ahead of the number issued in June, 1922, and were ten per cent less than in May of this year. These figures indicate a slowing up of building activities compared with unprecedented developments of the earlier months of the year.

Eastern states gained 24 per cent for the six months period, 4.4 per cent over June, 1922, and 5.2 per cent over May, 1923. Central states gained 47 per cent for the half year period, but in June showed a loss of 8.7 per cent from June last year and a loss of 27.4 as compared with May this year. Southern states gained 48.5 per cent during the first half of the year, lost 10.30 per cent in June and declined 24.7 per cent from May this year. The Pacific Coast states gained 52.5 per cent for the first six months, 32.1 per cent over June of last year and 1 per cent over May of this year.

Two hundred and twenty-five cities reported total building permits for the first six months of $1,706,642,084 compared with $1,250,276,260 for the first six months of 1922, the gain being $456,365,824. In these cities building permits amounting to 3,050,950, 452 were issued in June this year compared with $245,249,537 for June, 1922, shows a gain of $5,709,915 but a lot of $28,832,071 as compared with May this year. Of the entire number of cities, 130 showed gains over June, 1922, 92 over May this year and 182 for the first six months compared to 1922.

BOY IS KILLED IN FALL FROM HAYMOW

Dayton, July 25.—Emmett Spencer, 17, was killed yesterday afternoon when he fell from the haymow of a barn owned by Oliver Johnson, near Vandalia.

The boy had been employed by Johnson two weeks coming from the Knights of Pythias Orphanage at Springfield. His home is in Zanesville. The lad was climbing a ladder in the mow when he lost his footing and plunged headforemost to the barn floor. His neck was broken.

SUGGESTIONS MADE FOR WORLD PEACE VARY LONG WAY

New York, July 24—World peace is a simple matter of: First—Changing the present financial system.

Second—Altering the heart of mankind by religion.

Third—Making over the world's educational system.

Such, at least, is the conclusion drawn from the first 5,000 letters received by Edward W. Bok, whose offer of $100,000 for the best "practical plan by which the world peace may be achieved," has buried his New York office under an avalanche of mail.

In every tongue—four letters cannot even be identified as to language—plans for world peace poured into Bok's office.

Typical samples of plans offered are:

"Get rid of Wall street—money caused war."

Such letters, in nine cases out of ten conclude:

"I hope I win the $100,000."

"Make legislation which will send every man to church—if all men are religious, we'd have no war."

"Only by educating the children of today against war, can we have peace."

Many persons pleased to present peace plans in person.

"I'm a boiler maker who came all the way from Baltimore to tell you how to have peace," one visitor told Esther Everett Lape, noted writer, in charge of Bok's office, today.

"I can't write so I want to talk to Bok about this."

Some of the group, urging that the manufacture of munitions be stopped, is about tied with the idea that America "arm-to-the-teeth."

The proposition that "people vote on war," is another favorite.

The contest will continue until November 15, at which time a committee representing the great labor, fraternal and business organizations of the country will be asked to submit a number of selected plans to their membership for a referendum.

"We expect not less than 100,000 plans," Miss Lape said today.

THE MISFIT

By Jane Phelps

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Natalie Horton, a business girl, married Horace Crandell, a wealthy aristocratic bachelor, who lives with his widowed mother, whom he has promised never to leave. Mrs. Crandell opposes her son's marriage. Afterward she ignores Nathalie although the latter has everything money can give her. Mrs. Crandell terms her a "misfit" and in other ways shows dislike. Then Craig Harper and Beverly Rainsford come into the girl's life.

Events arise that cause Natalie to leave Horace. He and his mother go to Europe; but Horace, loving his wife, returns to search for her. He finds her, only to be suddenly called back to Europe because of his mother's sudden illness. Not knowing that Natalie is also dangerously ill, Horace sails. He desires to gain his mother's consent to living apart from her with Natalie, so breaking his promise never to leave her.

ETTA AND CLYDE PLAN FOR NATALIE

Chapter LV.

Etta was at her "wits end," as she told Clyde. "I am sure," she said, "that Horace intends to take her back, leave her live with him. I wish I knew where he was. Natalie is to go to work, even to look for work even if she remains at the hospital until the end of the week."

"Why not keep her with you a while?" Clyde asked. "You look all used up, and she can help you with the baby, besides doing little things about the house, until she is stronger. It would be a good plan for both of you."

"It's what I wanted Clyde but I hated to propose it."

"Well, it is all settled now. She is to come back to us until she has regained her strength. You can tell her I said so."

"I don't believe there is another man like you in the world, Clyde," Etta said with an accompanying fond look.

"I hope there is not for you, dear."

Clyde replied laughing and kissed her. Etta had been a bit afraid Clyde might think it was imposing upon him to have Natalie back, much as he liked her. Their increased expenses, doctor bills and the like had pulled hard on their little savings. But she was immensely relieved to know she was to have Natalie for a time.

Etta felt almost responsible for Natalie in a way and she also feared, if she let her go, Horace would never again be able to see her; and she longed for Natalie to be as happy as she was.

Natalie did not mention money to Etta again, neither did she speak of what she should do when she left the hospital. All her efforts were bent upon getting strong enough to take care of herself. Yet she cried with pleasure when Etta gave her Clyde's message; wept because she had two such dear friends—they had been kinder to her than anyone in the world, and if she lived, some day she would repay them if she lived!

Natalie had not wanted to get well, had longed to die. Life without Horace seemed very empty to her, but even yet she could not feel herself to blame. She had only done what she must—what any girl with a shred of self-respect and independence would have done. Yet in that last week in the hospital she thought more often of all Horace's kindnesses, than she did of his defection. She seemed able to think more clearly, to see where she might have helped to make things more pleasant for herself and for him. She recalled how quickly he had gratified her slightest wish. The grand piano, her expensive lessons, her smart little roadster, her lovely clothes, her generous allowance.

"He gave me everything but himself," she murmured, her eyes filled with tears, "and I wanted him most of all."

Back in Natalie's mind gradually forcing itself to the foreground was the wish, almost the determination to make of herself the woman Horace Crandell's wife should be, although she would never claim that place again. For her own satisfaction she would try to be all his wife should be—all a girl like Beverly Rainsford would have been.

It was not to be wondered, at, despite her dislike for Beverly, a dislike founded upon a sort of jealousy and realization of her adaptability, that she should have taken her for a pattern. She had seen more of her than any other young woman in Horace's set; had noted her ease, her tact her conversational ability. And added to this had been the knowledge that Mrs. Crandell approved of her, that to Horace's mother she represented all that was desirable in a wife for her son.

"Oh, if only I could be like her!" she said as these thoughts flitted through her mind.

Natalie was a very amenable patient that last week. The nurses and the doctors were delighted at her progress.

"Some thing has happened to make her want to get well," the nurse said, not knowing that as soon as Natalie heard she was going to live, that she owed all the comforts she had will it to Horace, that her one thought had been to get strong so she could work. On some day in the future she would repay the money he had spent for her. Of her own free will she had left him—she had no claim upon him, none at all.

And the greatest comfort Horace had was that he had provided for Natalie's needs; that she would no longer be obliged to work, that he would never let her work again. Tomorrow—Mother Love Conquers

VANT ARMY AIR SERVICE FUNDS INCREASED SOON

Add Appropriations Are Necessary to Keep Up
Department

Washington, July 25.—Cognizant of the grim race among the world powers for aerial supremacy, Congress next winter will be asked to increase the army air service appropriations nearly 100 per cent, it was learned today.

Estimates totalling $25,000,000 have been approved by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the service and a determined fight is to be waged, not only to secure that amount for the next fiscal year, but to insure that appropriations of like size will be forthcoming in the future.

An aerial force of 2,500 planes, 4,000 officers, 2,500 flying cadets and 25,000 enlisted men is the ultimate goal of the army air service now. With an appropriation of $25,000,000 it is contended such a force—competent in every way to serve the defense needs of the United States, could be built up and maintained. Failure of Congress to grant adequate appropriations for promotion of aviation, officials stated, has stifled and stunted the air service to a point where it bids fair to become impotent as a material factor in the national defense.

SALMON TRADE IN ALASKA MENACED— URGES SAFEGUARDS

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—Strong and immediate restrictions upon salmon fishing in Alaska must be imposed if the industry is to be preserved from the same destruction which has ruined fisheries in other parts of the United States.

This declaration was made by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in a statement issued on board the Henderson, reviewing the results of conferences held on the Alaska trip with fishermen, consumers, prominent officials, business men and experts.

Congress will be asked to give his department more constructive authority, Mr. Hoover said, but in the meantime the administration will not sit idly by and witness the destruction of the great fishing resources. Action should have been taken long ago, Secretary Hoover declared, adding that through western Alaska, where restrictions already have been imposed, he found universal approval of the policy creating reserves and adopting other measures limiting the amount of fish to be taken by action of congress.

The need for conservation in Alaska has been recognized for ten years, Mr. Hoover said, adding: "This is the largest of Alaska's industries. More than half of the population and more than half of the territorial revenues are dependent upon it. It can in time be built to much larger dimensions than at present. If nothing is done, it will be lost in a few years. It is of vital importance to the whole American people as a national source of food supply. There are no universal panaceas for this whole problem in Alaska—neither seasonal restrictions nor limitations of the pack, or any particular gear or its location, are universally applicable. Every district is a problem to itself."

Secretary Hoover announced that in an effort to obtain the best information regarding proper methods of regulation to be applied, he intends to appoint a board in Alaska to consider and advise his department as to regulations under the preserves.

ORDERED OUT OF TOWN BY "MOB" MAN TELLS LOCAL AUTHORITIES

William Matthews, Colored, of New Burlington, Arrives in Xenia With Family at 2:30 Tuesday Morning • Telling Sensational Story.

Wearied from exhaustion and lack of sleep the family of William "Bundy" Matthews, 62, colored, including his wife and four small children arrived at Police Headquarters at 2:35 o'clock Wednesday morning after walking from their home in New Burlington.

A "mob" of 50 or 60 white men, some armed with guns, was responsible for their leaving their home in the village at 11 o'clock Tuesday night on orders to "get out of town before midnight," according to the story told police. As a result of the alleged mob action, Matthews, it is said, is preparing to carry his case before Prosecuting Attorney West of Clinton County to issue warrants for the arrest of a number of New Burlington citizens.

The family was taken care of at Police Headquarters for the balance of the night, doing as best they could on the chairs in the office. Later they were turned over to Deputy Sheriff John Baughn, who furnished them money with which to buy food. While Matthews sought an attorney to carry his case to the attention of Clinton County authorities, his wife and four small children waited in the sheriff's office Wednesday morning.

LIVED IN XENIA.
Matthews' family consists of his wife, aged 31, whom he married in Dayton last September 27, and 4 step-children, Richard 14, Helen 12, Howard nine and Hazel aged seven. Matthews lived most of his life in Xenia, being for many years a "minute man" on the Xenia Fire Department. He is a veteran of the Spanish-American War, and served three years in the Philippines with the U. S. Army, with an honorable discharge record. He has also served as a special policeman.

Trouble that led to the alleged mob action is said to have been the outgrowth of an altercation with John Powell, New Burlington citizen, who rents a three-acre tract belonging to Mrs. Matthews, and operates a garden patch on the land. The Matthews live near the bridge on the pike leading to Wilmington. They were the only colored family living within the limits of the village.

According to the story told Deputy Sheriff Baughn, Powell accused Richard of stealing a hatchet belonging to him.

ORDERED FROM YARD.
Matthews said he was attracted by the accusation and went into the yard to defend the boy. Mrs. Matthews said she ordered Powell to leave the yard. Powell is said to have left.

Matthews told authorities he later went into the village to get a bucket of water at the Post Office pump, and took Hazel, with him.

Returning home he said they were accosted by Powell on the bridge.

Matthews said Powell struck him, knocking him down four times, and that he also exhibited a revolver. He told authorities at this juncture a crowd of 50 or 60 men jumped from bushes and weeds, along the road, and surrounded Matthews and the child.

Matthews said the men ordered him to take his family from the village before midnight. He said the children were so nervous and frightened, that they decided to leave to avoid further trouble and began the pilgrimage at 11 o'clock. They were given shelter at Police Headquarters when they arrived at 2:35 o'clock.

Appeals to Prosecutor.
Matthews appealed to Prosecuting Attorney J. K. Williamson Wednesday morning but was told that the occurrence took place in Clinton County and was without his jurisdiction. Most of the village of New Burlington lies in Clinton County, it is said, and the home of the Matthews family, property they themselves, is not in Greene County.

New Burlington residents interviewed Wednesday said that Matthews and his family had been ordered out of the village. They said they believed Powell was within his rights to claim the hatchet. They declared that the action Tuesday was the result of "frequent trouble" rather than the outgrowth of the single occurrence. They declared that after Powell had had the altercation at Matthews' home, Matthews went to the village and loudly denounced Powell. They said the "mob" was organized in a hurry, consisting of most of the men of the village.

Rumors that the Ku Klux Klan had a part in the mob action were denied Wednesday by villagers.

SENATOR WILL PROBE AFFAIRS IN RED RUSSIA

First Hand Information Object of Trip It Is Announced.

Berlin, July 25.—On the eve of the departure of the unofficial American congressional commission into soviet Russia, Senator King of Utah, a member of the commission, issued a statement outlining the purposes of the trip. Senator King said:

"We are going to Russia for the purpose of studying the political, economic, industrial, religious, educational and social conditions of the soviet republic."

"The Russian question looms large on the horizon, not only of Europe, but of other countries. By many it is thought if the Russian question is solved it will be a great step taken in the solution of all European problems and there are those who believe that America and all nations are vitally interested in the concerns of Europe."

"We desire to obtain first hand information concerning Russia and her people and the great experiment as some denominate the soviet government's activities, which are being worked out in Russia."

Senator King emphasized the fact that in order to be independent in collecting its information the commission was taking with it its own interpreter, Frank Connes of the New York supreme court.

He said also that the commission had laid out no new fixed itinerary, but that it expects to go as far as the Caucasus, the Black sea, Kiev, Odessa, Petrograd, Moscow and from various central points penetrate deep into the country districts in motor cars.

Alarmed by the intense activity of the communists on one hand and the nationalists on the other, together with spreading food riots, the Prussian minister of the interior sent out orders to all provincial governors to prevent any and all open assemblies or street demonstrations of whatever character.

The order also specifically forbids the "anti-fascist day" demonstration planned by the communists at Potsdam Sunday and loudly heralded by radical leaders, who have ordered followers out into the streets to "fight for your rights and to drive the fascist beasts into their holes."

The brutal killing of Attorney Haas at Frankfurt, the mistreatment of his wife and aged father, and the complete demolition of his home by a mob is looked upon as symptomatic of the latent anarchism smoldering in Germany. Government circles viewed the internal situation with much concern.

MAN IS ARRESTED AFTER LONG CHASE

Cincinnati, O., July 25.—After a chase of more than 30,000 miles, extending through a dozen states and lasting four months, Paul Berns, 40, also known as Paul Bernstein, stock salesman, of Bad Axe, Michigan, and former Cincinnati is under arrest here today and will be taken back to Michigan by Detective Walter Wilkinson, of Bad Axe, who made the arrest. Berns is charged with embezzling $7,500 worth of stock of the Ruggles Motor Truck Company, Saginaw, Mich.

Thomas Codling, of Bad Axe, who swore to the warrant for Berns, claims to have been swindled when the latter failed to turn over stock of several other Michigan concerns in exchange for the above amount of Codling's Ruggles stock.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS WANTED

Sen. S. M. Brookhart.

United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, who has just returned to his desk in Washington after an extensive tour of investigation, is demanding that President Harding call an extra session of Congress to pass legislation urged by the farmer and labor bloc in Congress.

SAY WATER POWER MEN ARE BEHIND DAVIS' REMOVAL

Washington, July 25.—The charge has been renewed here that big water-power interests of the southwest were behind the recent removal of A. P. Davis as commissioner of the reclamation service, department of the interior.

Interested congressmen, it was learned, are making a quiet investigation into the removal of A. P. Davis and the appointment of D. W. Davis, former governor of Idaho, as his successor. It appears certain that the change will be aired in congress next winter when the annual report of the reclamation service comes up for discussion.

At the department it was stated that there had been absolutely no change in the plans for the development of the Colorado river basin since A. P. Davis' retirement four weeks ago, that his assistant, F. E. Weymouth, continues in charge of the engineering office of the services at Denver, and that he is going ahead with the program as outlined under his former chief.

When the change of commissioners was made last month by Secretary Work, the explanation of the department was that it was for business reasons; that A. P. Davis was essentially an engineer; that the reclamation development had progressed beyond the engineering status to where it required a business administrative head rather than a technical expert, and that the new commissioner was put in to place the service on a sound business basis.

UNITY IS NEAR IN CHURCH MATTERS

Cleveland, July 25.—Methodist Episcopal unity throughout the United States today awaits only the approval of general conferences of the northern and southern branches of the church which have been separated since 1844 due to differences growing out of the then burning issue of slavery.

Plans for unification with only slight changes suggested by the representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church south, have been unanimously ratified by the committee on unification now in session here. The plans will be submitted to the general conference of the Northern body next May and should approval be voted as is considered certain, it was predicted that a special session of the southern general conference would be called to vote final approval. The unification is expected to be completed by 1925.

TEN ESCAPED MEN STILL AT LARGE

Chester, Ill., July 25.—Search was extended to distant points today for 10 inmates of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane who are still at large. Additional word was sent to several towns within a radius of 150 miles to be on the lookout for the convicts.

Prison authorities said, that as a result of the investigation made by state officials, an armed guard station within a tower would watch over the bull pen where 41 escaped in Sunday's rebellion. The establishment of a tower would prevent the possibility of a guard being overpowered in event of an uprising and modify the rule of barring guns at the hospital.

YELLOWSTONE PARK TOURISTS CUT OFF FROM OUTSIDE WORLD BY DISASTROUS CLOUDBURSTS

Entrance to Section Through Shoshone Valley Strewn
With Debris as Result of Worst Flood in History
of U. S. Forestry Service.

Cody, Wyoming, July 25.—The beautiful entrance to Yellowstone Park today was strewn with debris and wreckage as a result of the worst flood in the history of the United States forestry service. Three cloudbursts within six hours sent the flood waters sweeping down the mountain passes carrying tons of rock and dirt, cutting off from the outside world 400 tourists and completely demoralizing all forms of communication.

Ranger stations, summer resorts, lodges and other buildings were swept into Yellowstone Park. Canyon Creek moved westward a quarter of a mile and formed a new channel. Absaroka Lodge, a resort, is reported filled with debris and trees many feet deep. Three feet of mud from the overflow of Grinnell creek covers the road for miles.

Boulders, trees and wreckage of all descriptions was strewn over an area of more than half a mile when Clock Tower creek went over its bank. Hundreds of marooned tourists worked feverishly with forestry service men throwing temporary bridges across the flooded streams and this morning had succeeded in making a passable road from the park to this city.

The Shoshone Dam reservoir is black with a mass of wreckage washed down by the flood of waters. At Sanders, on the Northern Pacific, and Wyoala on the Burlington, cloudbursts halted all train traffic from the east into Billings. One thousand feet of track is washed out and trains are held up indefinitely at Forsythe.

Cloudbursts and floods at Rock Springs and Point of Rocks, are menacing the tracks but as yet no serious breaks or tieups have occurred. Damage to the Burlington tracks between Armingo and the Thermopolis, a stretch of 80 miles, is estimated at $750,000.

Damage at the Thermopolis and vicinity is estimated at between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000. No loss of

THRESHER BURNS.

London, July 25.—Fire destroyed the threshing outfit of Homer Eades, along with three wagons and 100 bushels of wheat. The outfit was on the farm belonging to Mrs. L. H. Williams, on the old Xenia road, and operated by J. F. Gordin.

MUSIC COURSE AT UNIVERSITY.

Columbus, July 25.—A regular musical department may be established at Ohio State university, President Thompson announced, as a result of the success of this summer's music courses. Should such a step be taken it would mean the realization of plans made six years ago to organize a department of music to offer courses during the regular term.

NEW WAGE SCALE TO PREVENT COAL STRIKE IS HINTED

Atlantic City, N. J., July 25.—With the anthracite joint scale committee summoned to hold a session this morning there were indications of impending developments in the negotiations between miners and operators to frame a new scale which will prevent a strike in the hard coal fields September 1.

The move for two sessions today against the single afternoon session of the past was instituted by S. D. Varriner, head of the operators and was taken to mean that the operators are about ready to bring into the open their attitude on the demand of the miners for complete recognition of the mine workers' union and for a 20 per cent increase in wages.

The attitude of the operators who have, up to now, confined their activities to searching questioning of the miners has been puzzling to the latter. This was indicated in the carefully worded statement which John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, issued in commenting on the denial of Varriner that the operators had been "stalling."

POINCARÉ OPPOSES SPECIFIC DATE FOR PAYING WAR DEBT

Paris, July 25.—Premier Poincaré is opposed to any specific date for paying the French war debt to United States even if it is put ten or fifteen years ahead, it was learned today from semi-official sources. The premier is willing to consider war debts and German reparations together and will consent to a reduction of Germany indemnity of 30,000,000 gold marks if Great Britain and America will at once annul all debts owing to them by France. Otherwise (it is understood) he will insist upon the full payment of 132,000,000,000 gold marks.

French and Belgian diplomatic negotiations for the purpose of securing in reply to the British reparations note are continuing in diplomatic channels. There are two principal differences of opinion:

1—Belgium wishes to make concessions to the British viewpoint and discuss a reduction of the German debt.

2—Belgium is willing to have an international commission appointed to examine Germany's ability for payment.

France is opposed to both these suggestions.

The French claim that the Ruhr and reparations problems are political not economic.

GIRL TO TESTIFY IN WHITFIELD CASE

Cleveland, O., July 25.—Marie Agnes Price, 14-year-old girl, companion of John L. Whitfield, in his flight to Madison, Wis., following the killing of Patrolman Dennis Griffin for whose murder Whitfield is now on trial, was due to arrive in Cleveland today, having been served with a subpoena at her home in Fort Wayne, Indiana, yesterday commanding her presence as a witness for the state in the trial of her lover. The state hopes to prove by the girl's testimony that Whitfield was armed when the couple left Cleveland in their flight which ended at Madison, Wis., following the death of the police officer last May.

With eleven jurors tentatively seated when court convened today and the defense still having thirteen peremptory challenges unexercised and the state three, it was thought that a jury would not be obtained before the noon recess, although a much smaller proportion of talesmen were being excused than is ordinarily the case.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED BY MOTOR BANDITS

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—Motor bandits early today broke into a branch post-office near 53rd and Market Streets, smashed the safe combination and escaped with $1,400 in stamps and cash.

DEVICE ENABLES CONGRESSMEN TO VOTE BY BUTTON

Washington, July 25—Parliamentary voting by electricity is hardly to be reckoned as a party policy, and it has found no place in a political platform, but it is a subject which is quite likely to occupy more than the passing attention of the United States Congress next session.

A young man of 25 years has invented a complicated but reliable electrical device for registering parliamentary votes almost instantaneously, and had it not been for the legislative jam of the last Congress it is probable that his invention would have been given a try-out as a resolution to that effect was favorably considered by the Republican leaders of the Lower House. The installation of the system calls for an appropriation of $125,000.

The principle advantages claimed for the device are that all members can vote simultaneously by pressing buttons at their seats; the vote of each member is visually shown to all occupants of the chamber by means of indicator boards on either side of the Speaker's rostrum; a complete permanent record of the vote, including the fraction, can be obtained by the clerk in a fraction of a minute by inserting a blank card in the recorder cabinet and pressing a button. This means the conservation of much valuable time and absolute accuracy in the vote. The permanent record can not be altered; absentees are automatically recorded; printers and clerical mistakes are avoided, and the record is made complete.

In a recent Congress 592 roll calls were made. They consumed a total of 444 hours, or 88 legislative days. The value of this time, measured in terms of Members' salaries amounted to $664,244. One statistician who has a penchant for "figgering" has discovered that the total time consumed in calling the roll during the 66th Congress, reduced to the time of one man working five hours a day continuously, amounted to more than 100 years. The automatic voting system allows about 10 minutes for all Members in their offices to come to the Chamber and vote, if they so desire. If the 592 roll calls above mentioned had been taken automatically, the total time required would have been 20 days, so that 68 working days would have been saved to Congress by the system.

Another argument which seems not to have been advanced in favor of this voting system is that it would be quite effective in crippling the efforts of opponents of proposed legislation to filibuster. Speaker Tom Reed dealt a terrific blow to the practice at one time, but since then it has been the custom when a filibuster in the House was on to order repeated roll calls, each of which takes 40 or 45 minutes to make. Automatic and instantaneous voting would discourage that practice.

The machine is so constructed as to prevent any tampering with the vote. It is supplied with three buttons, "Yea," "Nay," and "Present"—none of which can be pressed until the key is turned, and anyone of which, when pressed, automatically locks all the others. There is a correction button which is likewise tamper-proof.

WARNS AMERICA TO STAY AWAY FROM EUROPE'S TROUBLES

New York, July 24—A warning to the United States to "stay out of Europe," was issued today by George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of the Chicago Continental and Commercial National bank, on his return from a six months' study of economic conditions abroad.

Reynolds declared the "lack of cooperation" between European nations prevented the United States from "lending a helping hand in restoring normal economic conditions. He voiced "unalterable opposition" to American participation in settlement of the reparations dispute.

"I studied conditions abroad for six months and I am more than ever convinced, that we must stay out of Europe and mind our own business," said Reynolds.

"America cannot help Europe now because Europe will not help herself. We must wait until there is a stabilization of politics and until European nations show a willingness to cooperate with each other. The ill feeling now existing between foreign countries abroad, prevent the United States from lending any aid."

FORD OWNERS OF ENGLAND DEMAND EQUAL CAR RIGHTS

London, July 25—Henry Ford threatens to become the centre of a political storm in England.

It is not that Ford will enter the political field in Great Britain, but the increasing prevalence of his cars among British owners is apt to cause English politicians some little trouble.

The Ford Owners' Association of Great Britain has just been organized to demand equal rights for Fords and Ford owners. This association has taken an immediate and belligerent stand and threatens an attack on Parliament.

The present British motor-tax is the cause of all the trouble. Under the present system of taxation Fords are charged at the rate of $5 per horsepower. The owners of Ford cars claim this system of taxation is unfair and that the great majority of English cars, which are far more expensive than Fords, do not have as great horsepower as Fords and consequently are taxed far less.

The Ford Owners' Association has placed its grievances before Parliament and has threatened that if they are ignored all of the Ford owners in England will organize a drive on London and will "lie outside London with their cars, drive into London at a given time and block traffic until they are heard."

This is a serious threat, because London is already suffering from very serious traffic ills.

It is estimated that there are 500,000 Ford owners in England. The political pressure which can be brought to bear by their organization is being given serious consideration by political leaders.

Outside of the question of taxation, the Ford Owners' Association is also out to demand equal social rights.

Councillor E. Hales, of Manchester, one of the leaders in the Ford Owners' Association, proclaims that "if you take a Ford to an ordinary hotel you get a snub from the 'boots.' He demands that this condition be remedied."

Thus the democratization of the world by the Ford seems to have reached even dignified and staid old England.

Henry Ford's picture, by the way, is becoming almost as common in

POLICE START MOVE TO REMEDY ALLEGED UNLAWFUL PARKING

Attempts to remedy a serious parking situation, particularly on Saturday night, have been announced by Chief of Police M. E. Graham and will be launched Saturday night.

The police campaign will have for its goal the elimination of the present practice of machines parking directly back of automobiles that are parked at the curbs of down town streets. Police allege that after cars park in the parking spaces, other cars are parked directly back of them parallel with the curb, so that they can not be moved.

The congested parking program presents a serious menace in case of a down-town fire on Saturday night, according to Chief Graham. Should a fire start in a down town building, firemen could not draw a truck up near to the fire and would be handicapped in laying hose, if that were necessary, says the Chief.

The order to stop the irregular parking are the result of a survey made last Saturday night by Chief Graham and Patrolmen Bayles and Simms, when they found many machines parked in that manner. The system also blocks traffic on the main thoroughfares it is said.

The parking ordinance provides that machines should park with the right front wheel touching the curb, except on the east side of Detroit street, where parallel parking is permitted because of the railroad and on Green and other narrow streets where similar permission is granted.

Arrests will be made of all drivers who park their machines in violation of the parking ordinance from now on, according to Chief Graham. Violation is punishable with a fine in Police Court.

Police have also been ordered by Chief Graham to wage war on drivers who drive with the cut-outs on their machines open. There is an ordinance to cover this sort of driving. Chief Graham says and Police have been ordered to arrest offenders. They will face a fine in Police Court.

S. Leviathan and other steamships of the United States Lines—and to offer this testimony to officers, past and present of the U. S. ## OBSERVATIONS ON THE MINNESOTA ELECTION.

The election of Mr. Magnus Johnson is not without its compensations. Roaring on the stump against the plutocrats and the money devils is one thing. Even proposing, much less executing, a constructive program for remedying existing evils and wrongs is quite another. The people of this country are not going to get anywhere through the activities of demagogues who are using their lung power in blatherskite yawn, and whose program is merely that of imitating the soviet socialists in ripping up and tearing down the structure of American industry. If the voters of this country want to be completely cured of radicalism, all they need to do is to apply the Russian treatment—to try it on. Tearing things down is easy enough. Building things up is a real task for real men who have brain power as well as jaw power. It is to be hoped that the American people will not have to pay the heavy cost of learning this lesson in the school of experience. But it will be necessary for all Americans who do not wish to risk the security and the stability of American institutions by committing this nation's public affairs to the hands of adventurers, to arouse themselves to the dangers confronting this country. They must begin and continue to be active in politics if the representative republic of Washington and Lincoln is not to be made over on the model of the autocracy of Lenin and Trotzky which the socialist leaders of the Northwest agrarian movement regard as superior to the American form of government.

Patriotic citizens, devoted to the fundamentals of free government must be aroused to something more effective than mere denunciation. They must seriously turn themselves to the world of meeting and overcoming the sinister sophistries of radicals who what ever their other failings, realize the power of education, even false education, upon public opinion. The sole difference between Russia and the United States at this time is a state of mind. It is the appeal to public opinion which determines the national state of mind. The nation reads a courageous, persistent, pervasive campaign of education such as that which saved the country thirty years ago from the perils of a populism which was mild radicalism as compared with that of the camouflaged socialism now deluding the discouraged farmers of the Northwest.

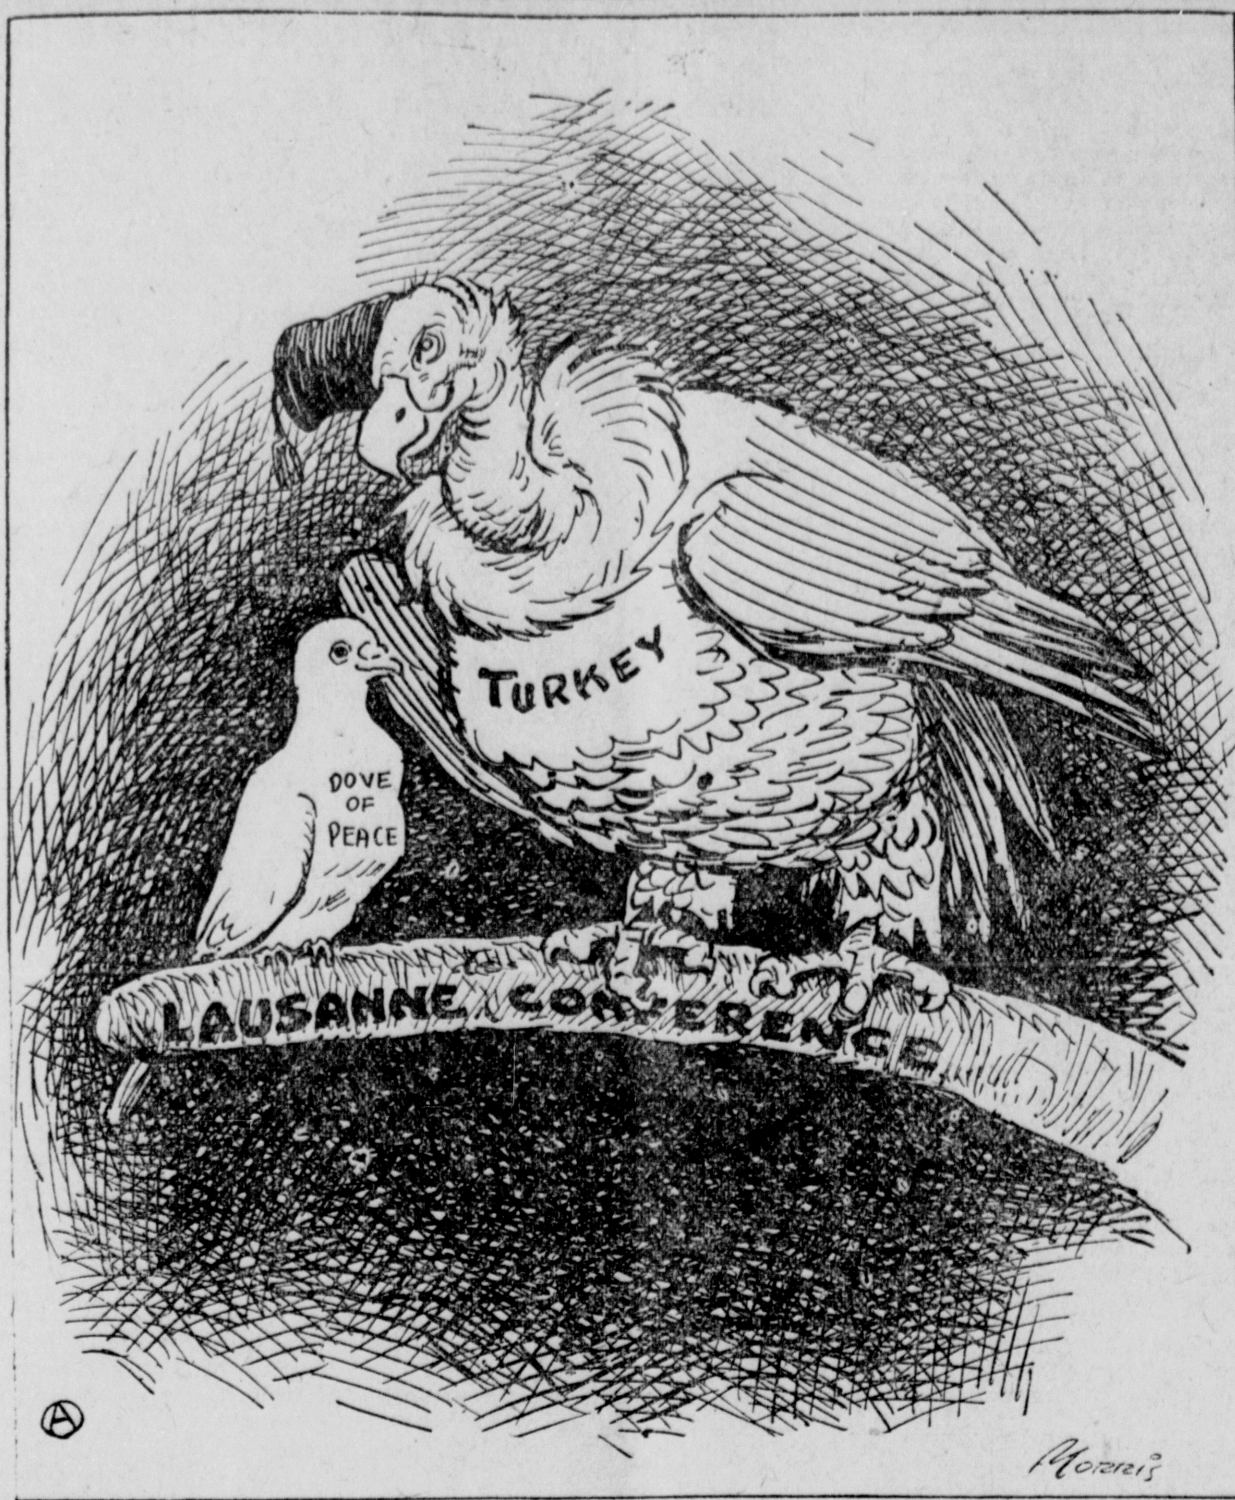

The policies of Republicanism given opportunity to work themselves out by a fair trial, will bring to the American people as full a measure of diffused prosperity as it is possible to attain through political action. The Republican party has a sane, progressive program for national reconstruction which has already proved of immeasurable benefit to the American people. The thing for Republicans to do is to stand by and vindicate these principles and policies and that record, firm in the faith that it is never a mistake to appeal to the patriotism and common sense rather than to the ignorance and envy of the American masses.—National Republican.

LONG A-COMING.

An old clipping from the New York Nation which has turned up and which, judging from its appearance, is at least twenty years of age, tends to give the impression that they are mistaken who trace the so-called "revolt of youth" to the World War and its heritages. It would appear that the "revolt" was incubating and a-comeing a long time before the Germans concluded to have a try at world conquering, and that writers of popular brands of stories for boys and for girls were in large part responsible. Discussing these books which flattered children into the belief that they were wiser and better than their elders and gave them a prodigiously exaggerated idea of their own importance, the Nation, perhaps a quarter of a century ago, illuminatingly observed:

"A large part of the charm lies in the superiority under all circumstances of the youthful hero. His father, or guardian, or employer, is a grown man and as such, either a fool or a tyrant—preferably a little of each. The boy himself from the first page, is exhibited in the enviable act of doing or daring his elders at every possible turn. There is no danger for him in 'sassing back.' No shingle is ever permitted to fall upon his sacred person; he is immune from all the ills that a normal puerility is naturally heir to. In short, he is the kind of a fellow a fellow would like to be. The same bauble of triumphant adolescence is dangled before the fancy of the girl reader. We have been moved to these remarks by chance contact with a new story by a popular writer for girls. The heroine has always been downtrodden by a heartless and stingy mother. We have the advantages of admittance to the scene at the moment when the worm turns. After the first few pages we have nothing to fear for the daughter, who thereafter has everything her own way—a selfish, vain saucy little prig, greatly admired, to all appearances, by her creator."

Breakfast	Cantaloupe

Dinner	Fried Liver with Bacon

A reader friend has requested me to publish some good cheese dishes. In warm weather it is an excellent plan to use meat-substitutes (such as eggs, cheese and beans). The following are all nourishing dishes:

Cheese Custard: Butter a baking dish and put in it a layer of bread which you have cut in thin slices and then into cubes about an inch square (no crusts). Sprinkle over this bread-layer mild American cheese cut wafer-thin, then dust with salt and pepper. Add another layer of bread in the same way, and again sprinkle with the cheese. Beat two eggs, add to them one pint of sweet milk, and pour this liquid over the cheese and bread. Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven. It should look delicate and wavy between the soft, spongy bread. (In all, you will need one-half loaf of bread and one-half pound of cheese for this recipe.)

Corn-Cheese Souffle: Cook one tablespoon of chopped green sweet pepper in one tablespoon of melted butter for a few minutes. Then add one-fourth cup of flour and two cups of milk. Stir and cook till smooth. Now add one cup of finely-chopped milk cheese, remove from fire, add one cup of cooked left-over corn, one-half teaspoon of salt, and the yolks of three eggs and fold in the three stiffly-whipped egg-whites. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and bake for thirty-five or forty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Cheese-Tomato Souffle: Mix together in a saucepan a pint of stewed tomato (or a one-pint can of tomatoes), two tablespoons of butter, three tablespoons of grated mild cheese, three-fourths of a cup of cooked macaroni one-half cup of stale bread crumbs and a pinch of mustard. Let boil up once or twice, remove from fire, cool, then stir in the yolks of three eggs and fold in the three stiffly-beaten egg-whites. Turn the mixture into a buttered baking dish and bake for thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven. Serve hot.

Cheese-Crab Ramekins: Make a thick cream sauce and add to it one

FAILURE

I will not fail today.
I will not cry my burden is unfair.
Cast it aside and leave it lying there.
I will not say
Soft words of pity to myself, and
whine
That others have an easier task
than mine.

I will not fail today.
I will not mar this record white and
new
By failing to do all that I can do.
Let come what may,
I'll do my best with what my hands
shall find,
And passing, leave no vain regrets
behind.

I will not fail today.
I will not play the shirk or play the
cheat;
I will not stain my duty with de-
ceit.
Though rough the way
And heavy seem the burden I must
bear,
I'll not begrudge to life these hours
of care.

I will not fail today.
I may not come to dusk by glory
crowned,
But I shall fight my battle, round
by round,
And hope shall stay,
And night shall find me, as the day
began,
Though not a victor, still no less a man.

Today's Talk

HOW TO BE LUCKY

I have had my share of luck, as well as ill luck, and I am ready to state that luck is very pleasant—but I have learned there is one way alone that is sure in the attaining of luck, and that is to make up your mind that luck must come.

Such a statement, without explanation, is sure to create a smile. So here is the explanation. Making up your mind never accomplishes anything unless you give orders through your imagination—will yourself to carry out your decision. When that decision is carried out, you get a part, at least, of your heart's desire. And that's happy.

It takes courage, patience, long thinking and waiting, to turn luck your way.

I have noted that the luckiest people are those who keep at the heels of luck—no matter where it runs.

Of course luck doesn't come merely from hard work. There are millions of people who work hard but who seem to have little luck. Luck comes about through vision, foresight, being able to know luck when its head appears. Like the chap who is always seeing himself just a little higher up—in his boss's shoes, perhaps.

And then luck comes about by seizing a combination of circumstances and making an event out of them.

I have in mind a writer who earns a very large sum from his writings now. I knew him when one-tenth that sum seemed large. But he felt that he had an unusual message—which he had—and he determined to get that message across. Day in and day out he worked and sought out every opportunity, until one day he awoke to find that he was being read and appreciated. I walked through the beautiful home of this friend the other day, and contrasted his present position with that of ten years ago. Lucky? Yes. But he went after luck.

Within yourself you carry the one lucky turn. Will you search it out? Will you dig deep for it. Will you pay what luck costs?

If you will, you will be lucky.

RAINS PROFITABLE FOR MANY FARMERS OF GREENE COUNTY

Heavy rains which fell, Tuesday, saved thousands of dollars for Greene County farmers and truck gardeners, it was estimated by County Farm Bureau Agent, Ford S. Prince, Wednesday. No estimate has been made of the amount of rainfall, Tuesday, but it is thought that Xenia was in the vicinity which received the heaviest amount.

Although the rain will delay threshing in the fields of the county, it will aid the growth of corn, according to Mr. Prince.

The heavy rains had a cooling effect on the temperature that prevailed before. Cooler weather was forecasted for Wednesday, with "generally fair," for Thursday, in the south-east portion.

FISH STORY BUT IT IS STILL TRUE

J. S. Painter, and his son, Roy Painter, formerly of Paintersville, are the heroes of a true fish story, according to a recent account in the McAllen, (Texas) Monitor.

The following story was told in the Texas paper: "J. S. Painter, who lives on North 13th Street, went fishing Tuesday afternoon, in the reservoir south of Pharr. He was accompanied by his son, and guided by the veteran fisherman, who lives in that vicinity. "After taking out a barrel of fish of varieties that are good for human consumption, the net the men were using got into an awful commotion. It was full of something alive, and the contents were drawn upon the shore none too soon, for the net was in shreds. The catch consisted of a monster gar, that weighed on the McAllen Hardware Company scales, just 75 pounds. The big fish measured six feet in length. Mr. Painter expected to have it mounted."

Styles BY LENORE

You have often observed, no doubt, how few women are really outstanding figures even in an ordinarily well dressed crowd. They will all meet a certain level of good style without claim to unusual distinction. And then suddenly they become merely a background for some one person who excites particular interest.

Nor is it necessarily an expensive outfit that will do the trick. Usually, rather, it is a clever bit of originality. The other day at a smart beach resort just outside of New York, even in the colorful parade of such a place one young woman attracted the attention of most of the others by wearing a turquoise linen coat, embroidered all over in white, with a big up-turned hat of the same material. Most of the other hats present were felt, some straw. Another intriguing accessory to give dash to a summer costume is the brilliant yellow and black Oriental scarf knotted under the chin as shown in the sketch. The same coloring is repeated in the band on the black felt cloche.

the fourth child the little girl had pushed into the water, but the others were saved. Chester Wojciechowski, aged 5, and Michael Nadworny, 6, are pointing to the hole in the dock through which she pushed the child.

LOCK OF WIFE'S DEATH IS FATAL TO MAN, AGED 81

Lima, O. July 24—They were born next door to each other and started to school the same day at Columbus Grove, their lifelong home and when he was 21, they were married.

Saturday afternoon, in the same little cottage in which they started housekeeping 61 years ago, Mrs. Elizabeth Burkholder, 79, died due to the infirmities of age. The shock of her death caused the death of her husband, Christian Burkholder, 81, yesterday.

Double funeral services were to be held today in the same church in which they were wedded. They will be buried in the same grave.

WANTS MEDICAL EXAMINATION

Bucyrus, July 25—Congressman R. Clint Cole is thinking seriously of requiring a medical examination before making another appointment to West Point.

Kenneth Christman, his first appointee, was sent back on account of color blindness. His second appointee, Harold M. Nussbaum, was refused admission to the academy because he was said to have an incipient goiter.

S.S.S. keeps away Pimples

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. routs out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and "pep."

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

CLIFTON WOMAN KILLED AND TWO OTHERS INJURED WHEN AUTO STRUCK BY TRAIN

Mrs. Grace Tannehill, 55, of near Clifton, was killed, Miss Alice Finney, also of near Clifton, was seriously injured, and Miss Addah Tannehill, daughter of the dead woman, was slightly injured when the automobile, in which they were occupants, was struck by a west-bound Big Four passenger train at the Western Avenue crossing, Springfield, late Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Tannehill was buried under the debris, when the machine was hurled a short distance by the collision, turning completely over. An ambulance was called to the scene, but Mrs. Tannehill died before reaching the hospital.

Miss Finney and Miss Tannehill were also removed to the hospital, where it was found that Miss Finney's injuries, consisted of a broken left leg, an injured hip, cuts and bruises about her face and body. Miss Tannehill was only slightly cut and bruised, and was later removed to her home near Clifton.

Miss Tannehill was driving the automobile at the time of the accident, and according to her story, the three women were riding south on Western Avenue, and upon the crossing noticed a standing freight train west of the crossing. She said the warning bells were ringing and believing the standing train was causing them to ring, she started the car across the track. She said she did not see the approaching train until it was upon them.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Tannehill leaves one son, Otis, two sisters, Miss Agnes Kyle, of the Springfield City Health Department, and Mrs. R. L. Newland, of Springfield; four brothers, T. K. Kyle of this city; J. E. Kyle of Cedarville; O. H. Kyle of Altoona, Pa., and Carl Kyle of Springfield.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Thursday at the residence near Clifton. Burial will be made at the Clifton Cemetery.

BAYLIFFS TO PLAY
QUEEN CITY TEAM
OF K. I. O. LEAGUE

The Xenia Bayliffs will meet another K. I. O. League team at Washington Park Sunday afternoon. This time it will be the Norwoods. The Queen City bunch has a fifty team and one that will be hard to beat as in the past the Norwoods have been one of the leading semi-pro nines of Cincinnati.

The Bayliffs have won eight games to date while they came out on the losing end five times. Every team from Cincinnati has turned back the locals and this time the Bayliff players are seeking to get revenge. Manager Bayliff is counting on having two practice sessions this week.

Big Boy Herman will take care of the twirling. Herman lost to the Coca Colas another K. I. O. League team and this time Herman is going to avenge this defeat and promises the Bayliff followers a win at the expense of the swiftly moving Norwood gang. Bayne will receive the slants. Curt Free will also be available. The last time that Curt worked on the hill for the locals was against the sturdy Springfield Athletics. Curt pitched a whole of a game that afternoon for the Bayliffs. He fanned seven while the best the Springfield batters could garner off him was four singles one of them being a freak home run. In case that Free should have to twirl he will be in fine fettle.

The Norwood team is a high priced club and Manager Bayliff is taking a chance of losing all kinds of money on this game as the Cincinnati bunch is receiving a handsome purse for its battle with the local line. But that the Norwood outfit is worth every penny that the Bayliff manager is giving because the team is coming here with a good record having dropped but one game out of fourteen. Just who handed them a setback could not be learned. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Norris in charge.

MAN IS EXONERATED

West Union, O July 25—Walter Guley, arrested in Lexington, Ky. last Saturday, charged with complicity in the murder of Robert F. Morris, of Cincinnati, near here recently, has been exonerated of any connection with the crime, after a hearing in the Adams County jail here.

RESERVES TO MEET
FAST DAYTON NINE
ON SUNDAY HERE

The Reserves will endeavor to keep up their winning ways at the expense of the sturdy Studebaker nine of Dayton, Sunday afternoon. Reserve Park, on Cincinnati Avenue. Fans will remember that this was the same team that battled on even terms with the Bayliffs several weeks ago. The game went 10 innings and when hostilities were over both had eight counters apiece. This game ranked among the best at Reserve Park this season. The Dayton bunch has been strolling along at an amazing clip since tangleing up with the locals and they have won most of their games easily. The Reserves will be all set for them and Jesse Chambliss's gang is confident that it can turn back the Studebakers.

Mann will be on the rubber for the Studebakers. He is a real curve ball pitcher and averages 10 to 12 strikeouts per game. In his game against the Reserves he fanned 12 of the Reserve batters. Then there is Russ Bowman, who is just about as good a short stop as can be found around Dayton. Dadisman, who plays at first base, not only takes care of the initial sack but clouts the ball in an excellent manner. Dadisman garnered two home runs off Wigal when he twirled for the Reserves in that game. Mann who does the hurling is another good slugger.

The game will start at 2:30 o'clock with Rachford in charge. A week from this Sunday the Reserves will tangle up with the Xenia Red Sox.

DOWNEY BEATEN
BY JOCK MALONE

Columbus, O. July 25—A decisive beating was administered by Jock Malone, St. Paul, to Anthony Downey, local middleweight fighter, here last night.

Malone, hailed as middleweight champion of the world, was credited with winning each of the dozen rounds of the bout. He had a dazzling speed. Downey was unable to land a single damaging blow.

Although Malone landed numerous terrific punches to the body and left hooks to the head, Downey gamely, but futilely sought to put over his punches. Each fighter weighed 155 pounds.

JOHNNY DUNDEE
GETS CHANCE AGAIN

New York, July 25—Johnny Dundee, chronic seeker of world's championship honors, will have his fling

at the featherweight title tomorrow night not less than five years behind his time. Always fortune's football, Dundee is granted the boon of facing a champion to a decision with the best of his career behind him. He will hardly be the Dundee of other and better years whatever the outcome of his bout with Eugene Criqui.

YOU

THE PROOF
OF THE
PUDDING

The proof of the pudding, they say, is in the eating. The test of a life is in the living—but many a married life could be made happier and safer if some of the tests were applied before matrimony, instead of waiting for the acid test of experience to enlighten Youth.

Ruby Atkins met Paul Norwood and married him. About all she knew of him was that he had crinkly hair and fine shoulders and—was her husband.

But what she and her daughters learned of him later is told in

Radio Helped Balloonist Win Big Race

Lieutenant R. F. Olmstead, winner of the Indianapolis elimination balloon race to determine the three entries to represent the United States in the James Gordon Bennett race in Europe this fall, gives the radio credit for his victory. Equipped with a light-weight set, he was able to listen in to weather reports of upper air currents broadcasted from five of the principal stations of the country, night and morning, while the balloonists were in the air. Another use he found for his radio was in approaching thunder shower areas, the most dreaded interference after a balloonist leaves the ground. Long before lightning flashes could be seen the cracking of the static in his receivers warned him of the approach of the storm. Lieutenant Olmstead's radio-equipped balloon is shown in the air.

MISSIONARY GUEST AT LOCAL HOME

The Rev. W. L. McClanahan, missionary to Egypt, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eavey of the Wilmington pike, Tuesday. The Rev. Mr. McClanahan is stationed on a missionary boat which stops at Egyptian ports, where he holds meetings. He was associated in that work with Mrs. Eavey several years ago when she was stationed in Egypt. The Rev. Mr. McClanahan is enjoying a furlough to this country, visiting friends and relatives at various points.

OFFICERS STOP WEDDING Newark, July 25—Just as the knot about to be tied by a local minister, Officer John Dwyer burst in on the ceremony. The wedding was stopped when the officer explained that the girl, Ruth Ehret, Columbus, was only 16 years old, and had eloped.

Heather Cremons, would-be-groom, said "they will have to lock us both up to prevent the marriage, because we love each other and will elope again. We'll make it certain next time," he declared.

MINE IN OPERATION Shadyside, July 25—The Webb mine, largest in Ohio, is again in operation, after nearly two months of idleness. Following strikes at almost weekly intervals, the company failed to start the mine again after the men quit. After several weeks negotiations the company finally agreed to a resumption. ## BRINGING UP FATHER

Sixty-Eight Building Permits Issued Here

Sixty-eight building permits, calling for brand new residences, spic and span garages, remodeling and snappy repairs designed to improve and beautify have, been issued by City Manager S. O. Hale since January 1, 1923.

The 68 permits, calling for many and varied types of construction work, take their places along side of permits that aggregated a 36.5 per cent gain in building in the United States for the first six months of 1923 over a like period of 1922.

They are piled on top of a total of 175 permits issued up to the first of last January from the time the new building code ordinance went into effect in February, 1922. Since that time 243 permits have been issued. They call for an aggregated expenditure of more than $200,000, according to estimates. Xenia's building code does not call for an estimated amount on the permits issued.

Twenty-six of the permits issued since January 1, 1923, called for new dwellings. Their styles run the gamut from the cute little three-room cottages of the financially conservative, to the pretentious, elaborate and altogether beautiful Dutch Colonial, American Colonial, bungalows and other examples of the modern architecture affected by those who know what they want and mean to have it.

Building in Xenia has not been in any one locality. The city is not so closely built up yet that building lots can not be found in old residence sections. Yet the new Dadds Addition, with its charming residential possibilities, is now being fringed by the pioneer houses that farseeing Xenians predict will fill that advantageous embryonic residential district.

Permits issued since the first of the year are classified as follows: Residences 26; Garages 13; Remodeling, including additions 17; repairs, 9 and other buildings, five. Two permits were issued in duplicate calling for both garage and residence at the same time.

Building permits issued in the United States in June this year were only 2.3 per cent ahead of the number issued in June, 1922, and were ten per cent less than in May of this year. These figures indicate a slowing up of building activities compared with unprecedented developments of the earlier months of the year.

Eastern states gained 24 per cent for the six months period, 4.4 per cent over June, 1922, and 5.2 per cent over May, 1923. Central states gained 47 per cent for the half year period, but in June showed a loss of 8.7 per cent from June last year and a loss of 27.4 as compared with May this year. Southern states gained 48.5 per cent during the first half of the year, lost 10.30 per cent in June and declined 24.7 per cent from May this year. The Pacific Coast states gained 52.5 per cent for the first six months, 32.1 per cent over June of last year and 1 per cent over May of this year.

Two hundred and twenty-five cities reported total building permits for the first six months of 1923, the gain being $450,365,824. In these cities building permits amounting to $30,959,452 were issued in June this year compared with $245,249,537 for June, 1922, shows a gain of $5,709,915 but a lot of $28,832,071 as compared with May this year. Of the entire number of cities, 139 showed gains over June, 1922, 92 over May this year and 182 for the first six months compared to 1922.

BOY KILLED IN FALL FROM HAYMOW

Dayton, July 25.—Emmett Spencer, 17, was killed yesterday afternoon when he fell from the haymow of a barn owned by Oliver Johnson, near Vandana.

The boy had been employed by Johnson two weeks coming from the Knights of Pythias Orphanage at Springfield. His home is in Zanererville. The lad was climbing a ladder in the mow when he lost his footing and plunged headforemost to the barn floor. His neck was broken.

SUGGESTIONS MADE FOR WORLD PEACE VARY LONG WAY

New York, July 24.—World peace is a simple matter of: First—Changing the present financial system.

Second—Altering the heart of mankind by religion.

Third—Making over the world's educational system.

Such, at least, is the conclusion drawn from the first 5,000 letters received by Edward W. Bok, whose offer of $100,000 for the best "practical plan by which the world peace may be achieved," has buried his New York office under an avalanche of mail.

In every tongue—four letters cannot even be identified as to language—plans for world peace poured into Bok's office.

Typical samples of plans offered are: "Get rid of Wall street—money caused war."

Such letters, in nine cases out of ten conclude: "I hope I win the $100,000."

"Make legislation which will send every man to church—if all men are religious, we'd have no war."

"Only by educating the children of today against war, can we have peace."

Many persons pleaded to present peace plans in person.

"I'm a boiler maker who came all the way from Baltimore to tell you how to have peace," one visitor told Esther Everett Lape, noted writer, in charge of Bok's office, today.

"I can't write so I want to talk to Bok about this."

Some of the group, urging that the manufacture of munitions be stopped, is about tied with the idea that America "arm-to-the-teeth."

The proposition that "people vote on war," is another favorite.

The contest will continue until November 15, at which time a committee representing the great labor, fraternal and business organizations of the country will be asked to submit a number of selected plans to their membership for a referendum.

"We expect not less than 100,000 plans," Miss Lape said today.

ETTA AND CLYDE PLAN FOR NATALIE

Chapter LV.

Etta was at her "wits end," as she told Clyde. "I am sure" she said, "that Horace intends to take her back, but even yet she could not feel herself where he was. Natalie is to ill to work, even to look for work even if she remains at the hospital until the end of the week."

"Why not keep her with you a while?" Clyde asked. "You look all used up, and she can help you with the baby, besides doing little things about the house, until she is stronger. It would be a good plan for both of you."

"It's what I wanted Clyde but I hated to propose it."

"Well, it is all settled now. She is to come back to us until she has regained her strength. You can tell her I said so."

"I don't believe there is another man like you in the world, Clyde," Etta said with an accompanying fond look.

"I hope there is not for you, dear," Clyde replied laughing and kissed her.

Etta had been a bit afraid Clyde might think it was imposing upon him to have Natalie back, much as he liked her. Their increased expenses, doctor bills and the like had pulled hard on their little savings. But she was immensely relieved to know she was to have Natalie for a time.

Etta felt almost responsible for Natalie in a way and she also feared, if she let her go, Horace would never again be able to see her; and she longed for Natalie to be as happy as she was.

Natalie did not mention money to Etta again, neither did she speak of what she should do when she left the hospital. All her efforts were bent upon getting strong enough to take care of herself. Yet she cried with pleasure when Etta gave her Clyde's message; wept because she had two such dear friends—they had been kinder to her than anyone in the world, and if she lived, some day she would repay them if she lived!

Natalie had not wanted to get well, had longed to die. Life without Horace seemed very empty to her, but even yet she could not feel herself to blame. She had only done what she must—what any girl with a shred of self-respect and independence would have done. Yet in that last week in the hospital she thought more often of all Horace's kindnesses, than she did of his defection. She seemed able to think more clearly, to see where she might have helped to make things more pleasant for herself and for him. She recalled how quickly he had gratified her slightest wish. The grand piano, her expensive lessons, her smart little roadster, her lovely clothes, her generous allowance.

"He gave me everything but himself," she murmured, her eyes filled with tears, "and I wanted him most of all."

Back in Natalie's mind gradually forcing itself to the foreground was the wish, almost the determination to make of herself the woman Horace Crandell's wife should be, although she would never claim that place again. For her own satisfaction she would try to be all his wife should be—all a girl like Beverly Rainsford would have been.

It was not to be wondered, at despite her dislike for Beverly, a dislike founded upon a sort of jealousy and realization of her adaptability, that she should have taken her for a pattern. She had seen more of her than any other young woman in Horace's set; had noted her ease, her tact, her conversational ability. And added to this had been the knowledge that Mrs. Crandell approved of her; that Horace's mother she represented all that was desirable in a wife for her son.

"Oh, if only I could be like her!" she said as these thoughts flitted through her mind.

Natalie was a very amenable patient that last week. The nurses and the doctors were delighted at her progress.

"Some thing has happened to make her want to get well," the nurse said, not knowing that as soon as Natalie heard she was going to live, that she owed all the comforts she had while ill to Horace, that her one thought had been to get strong so she could work. On some day in the future she would repay the money he had spent for her. Of her own free will she had left him—she had no claim upon him, none at all.

And the greatest comfort Horace had was that he had provided for Natalie's needs; that she would no longer be obliged to work, that he would never let her work again.

GARAGEMAN HURT WHEN JACK SLIPS

Jerome Swigert, partner in the firm of Swigert Bros., owners of an East Second street garage, was rendered temporarily unconscious when a jack with which he was raising an automobile at the Garage Tuesday evening slipped and struck him in the head.

The blow caused a slight concussion above the right eye and a scalp wound. He regained consciousness at the offices of Drs. A. C. and H. C. Messinger, where his injuries were dressed. The injuries are painful but not serious, attending physicians say.

BE RID OF THAT ACHE

If you are a sufferer with lame back, backache, dizziness, nervousness and kidney disorders, why don't you try the remedy that your own neighbors recommend?

Mrs. Lee Ledbetter, 167 Hill St., Xenia, says: "I was miserably run down, especially when I arose in the morning. My back was weak and the least exertion tired me. I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store and received immediate relief. It was but a short time until Doan's cured me entirely of this trouble. The fact that I have not had any symptom for several years gives me reason to believe that Doan's have effected a permanent cure."

Mrs. Ledbetter gave the above statement Aug. 2, 1917, and on Aug. 15, 1921, she added: "I am very glad to again recommend so reliable a kidney remedy as Doan's Kidney Pills. They have made a permanent cure for me and I have had no occasion to use Doan's since they cured me several years ago. I am glad to confirm my statement of 1917."

"Give me 80 miles of gas"

If gas could be bought on a mile-per-gallon basis, how differently the motorist would select his fuel. "Give me 80 miles of gas." Sounds funny but that's practically what it amounts to. You pay so much for so much gas and expect a certain mileage in return.

If you will measure the mileage cost per gallon on Columbus Gasoline you'll become a steady Columbus customer. Thousands of motorists use only pure Columbus Gasoline. Try it for more mileage, better pickup, more power, smoother running.
